“Tintin et moi”

Thursday evening, August 14, 5:30 pm

Northwest Film Forum

1515 12th Ave (12th and Pike)

Free screening • Air-conditioned

See the rarely screened documentary about Hergé, creator of the ubiquitous Tintin. Featuring the late artist himself, this film details the birth of Tintin, the importance of one close friendship to Hergé’s evolution as an artist, how Hergé worked under the German Occupation and the controversies that surround his work to this day.

Of special interest now that Steven Spielberg and Peter Jackson are filming “their own” movie version of Tintin.
